

GRADUATE ASSISTANT PLANNER POSITION

DPP is an independent national planning consultancy, successfully delivering planning solutions to clients across the UK. We are looking for Graduate Assistant Planners to join the teams based in either our Cardiff, Leeds, or Newcastle offices to work on a range of exciting projects across the UK.

This is a perfect opportunity to progress your career, knowledge and expertise and assist in the delivery of exceptional planning services, across various sectors, including education, energy, health, residential, retail, and major mixed-use and regeneration schemes. We act for many high-profile clients, including some of the country's major land developers, housebuilders, and retail operators.

We have a flexible working approach, with a mixture of home and office-based working for all our employees. You will receive ongoing support and guidance from our experienced senior leadership team across all our offices. We provide all employees working towards chartership a dedicated mentor to support and advise you through the process. DPP is committed to providing learning and development opportunities to all. As a graduate, you will receive a comprehensive graduate training programme as well as a company-wide bespoke CPD and training schedule.

In terms of attributes, we are seeking candidates who can satisfy the following.

- RTPI accredited degree or a relevant degree
